WHITE MANTLED; WATER GIRDLED

Paducah Quietly Awaits Elements' Pleasure.

Three inches of snow falls and stays on the ground—salvation of the farmers.

RIVER RISING MORE SLOWLY.

White mantled and water-girdled, Paducah quietly awaits the river's pleasure, and this morning the outlook was more reassuring for a near fall than it has been since the rise started. The gauge registered the government prediction this morning at 7 o'clock—45 feet and had one-tenth to spare. It rose seven-tenths of a foot in the last 24 hours.

Tomorrow morning's reading of the gauge probably will show another rise, but by Monday morning, barring the sudden melting of snow up and down the river and more rain, the river will be at a stand or with the first fall to its credit.

Three inches of snow fell. One-half inch of rain preceded the snow yesterday morning but neither as yet have had any appreciable effect on the river. The cold weather comes as a boon from nature as cold weather is always the strongest deterrent to high water.

Snow may add to the sufferings of thousands of people temporarily, but to the farmers it comes as absolute salvation. When spring plowing starts, unless the ground has had a thorough freezing it is a much harder task to break it. It takes a hard freeze to loosen up the soil and cold invariably has the effect of raising the ground and expanding it greatly. Should warm weather have continued the rains would have caused the soil to run together and to cake in a way that makes pulverization difficult for the sowing of the spring seed. Not only would the preparation of the soil be more difficult, but the quality and quantity of the product would be much poorer and smaller.

The dead quiet of the river front is in sharp contrast with the usual atmosphere of activity. The sun's rays are causing a mist to rise that obscures the Illinois shore. The packets are all away or laid up. No work at all is being done at the ways or dry docks.

Two feet more of water would put the river into Washington street but not into Broadway or Kentucky avenue. The river may come up to the 46 foot mark on the gauge though the creep of the water now is funeral.

THIEVES RANSACK THE POSTOFFICE

Thieves broke into the postoffice at Woodville last night and stole watches, jewelry, spectacles and other things belonging to Postmaster Charles Flowers, but only got 50 cents of the government money.

BANK CLEARINGS GROW IN SPITE OF WEATHER

Bank clearings $682,256
Same week last year 574,000

Increase $108,256

Weather conditions this week in January were worse than in the corresponding week of last year, yet the bank clearings show a large increase, Paducah depending on a district which right now is in the throes of a bad river flood with the otherwise adverse weather conditions, still shows a steady growth.

SPECIAL SESSION.

Will Be Held By Aldermen Tonight or Monday.

A special session of the board of aldermen, probably Monday night, will be called by Mayor Yelzer to pass on the apportionment ordinance, already passed by the board of councilmen. The finance committees of both boards are in joint session at the city hall this afternoon, going over the various items of the city budget. It is barely possible that the special session will be held tonight, but the indications are that the finance committees will not be through before an hour too late for the call.

END OF SWETTENHAM. Kingston, Jan. 26.—Governor Swettenham will sail for England in a few days, having resigned as governor.

CHICAGO EPIDEMIC.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—Zero weather for 24 hours brought a marked decrease in the number of new cases of contagious diseases. Only 130 cases were reported. Sunday meetings are expected to give epidemic fresh impetus.

REAL REVOLUTION.

Kingston, Jan. 26.—That a real revolution will break out soon in Venezuela was proven today by the presence of General Andrea, the Venezuelan revolutionist, who is seeking to enlist adventurous Americans. It is admitted revolutionists are collecting forces at Panama.

LIST OF DONORS UP TO DATE.

The finance committee of the Woman's club, which has had in charge the canvass to be made among the business men for funds toward the purchase of the Greif property on Kentucky avenue as a club house, is feeling greatly encouraged at the work so far. While the canvass has necessarily been very limited to date, only 104 persons having been visited, $2,800 of the $4,000 needed has been subscribed, and everywhere the women have met with a most cordial reception and the heartiest interest has been manifested in the work. The committee will make a more thorough canvass of the city during the coming week, and hope to speedily raise the remainder of the amount.

Those who have generously contributed so far are:

KIMONO IGNITED IN FIRE OF GRATE

And Maude Schrand Was Burned to Death.

Her Companion Was Arrested and Fined for Being Drunk and Disorderly.

LITTLE BOY ONLY WITNESS

After lingering for nearly ten hours, Mrs. Maude Schrand, 25 years old, died at 1:45 o'clock this morning from horrible burns at her home 1020 North Tenth street. Jeff Reeves, her companion, when the accident, which resulted in her death occurred, was arrested, but not held on any charge in connection with her death. He was fined $1 for being drunk and disorderly.

The two were scuffling in the room, according to the best accounts, and the woman's kimono, was whisked into the flames of an open grate. The fire ran up her back and she screamed for help. Reeves, in his condition, was of little assistance, and finally fled from the house leaving the woman to her fate.

The only eye witness to the horrible scene is the six-year-old son of Mrs. Schrand, Leon Schrand, who witnessed the affair from the doorway leading from the back to the front room. Reeves was captured before dark. He was locked up on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

The dead woman was the wife of Edward Schrand, of Metropolis, Ill., but separated from him some time ago, taking her three sons, Frank, 8 years old; Leon, 6 years old, and Harold, 4 years old, in custody. She lived in a three-room house at 1020 North Tenth street, her sister, Mrs. Emma Force, lived with her.

Mrs. Force was not at home yesterday afternoon and the children, except little Leon who was playing in the second room, directly back of the mother's bedroom where she and Reeves were talking, were also absent. The loud talking excited little Leon's attention, and making for the door he entered the room just in time to see the end. Between sobs the little fellow told his story to a reporter as his mother lay in the adjoining room suffering untold agonies, far beyond the aid of physicians and their medicines.

Fannie Dickerson on Scene.
Fannie Dickerson, a 15-year-old colored girl, was the first in the room after Reeves left. She was attracted by the frantic Leon. The girl had also noticed the hatless Reeves running in uncertain strides towards the saloon.

"I saw a big man with black hair and mustache running from Mrs. Schrand's house," the Dickerson girl explained. "Next came little Leon, and noticing the door of Mrs. Schrand's house ajar and smoke issuing from it, naturally thought it was a fire. I was carrying milk, but setting the pail on the ground I made for the house."

"I found Mrs. Schrand sitting on the edge of the bed with no clothes on her lower limbs. On her breast and arms was the remnants of an under shirt burning to the skin. I grabbed it and with one wrench tore it from her. Back she fell, and rolling on the bed tried to secure relief. She recognized me and begged me, begged any one, to do something for her."

The appearance of the bed indicates that after the exit of Reeves and little Leon, the mother threw herself on it and tried to smother the flames.

Captain Frank Harlan received an emergency call at the city hall, and City Physician Harry Williamson was in the building. The patrol wagon was dispatched to the scene with Dr. Williamson and reporters.

It was a sickening scene presented when the doctor arrived. Drs. Johnston Bass and Horace T. Rivers had preceded the patrol, but had no suitable dressings with them, not understanding the nature of the case when they started.

The nauseating odor of burning flesh, mingled with burning rags was too much for some, who turned and left the house. Linseed oil and other soothing lotions were spread on the woman, and morphine injected to put her to sleep. She was hard to influence with the drug, and did not lapse into unconsciousness until an hour after it was administered. The flesh was burned off her body in places, and not four square inches of unburned skin remained. At places she was literally cooked.

MRS. HARRY K. THAW, WHOSE HUSBAND IS BEING TRIED FOR THE MURDER OF STANLEY FORD WHITE.

Reeves Arrested.

Reeves was arrested about 4:45 o'clock by Patrolman Will Rogers near the Housman grocery on South Tenth street. He was drunk, evidently having taken more liquor after escaping from Mrs. Schrand's house. He was too drunk to give an intelligent interview at the city hall last night, and went to sleep on being placed in a cell. He is a brother of Coroner Frank Baker is holding an inquest this afternoon. He has summoned Little Downey, Lottie Jacobs, Leon Schrand, the son; a clerk from Mitchell's saloon and grocery, who loaned Reeves a hat, and the Dickerson girl, colored. He will probe the matter to the bottom.

Reeves made a statement at the city hall to the effect that Mrs. Schrand accidentally caught fire. He claimed to have thrown a blanket over her, and in leaving the house injured his hand on the latch. He did not notify any one of the woman burning so far as known.

Mrs. Patterson, the dead woman's mother, arrived this morning from Metropolis. No funeral arrangements have been made and will not be until this afternoon. It is probable the body will be taken to Metropolis.

LAKES TO GULF IN GRIP OF THE COLD

Typical Scenes of Suffering in Chicago When Fire Drives Tenants Into Streets Without Any Clothing.

EIGHT INDIANS ARE FROZEN.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—A cold wave from Lake Michigan sent the temperature below zero this morning. S. Goldman, an invalid, his wife and two small children were found freezing without food. Six frame buildings in the tenement district were burned this morning, driving the occupants into the streets destitute of clothing.

Texas in Grip.

Fort Worth, Jan. 26.—All west Texas and the Panhandle are in the grip of cold weather. Rain, sleet, snow and ice extends to Oklahoma and Indian Territory. Reports reach here that eight Indians were frozen to death near Henrietta, I. T.

REFUGEES SUFFER AT SHAWNEETOWN

Shawneetown, Ill., Jan. 26.—Cold weather today has added to the horrors of the flood situation, with only two carloads of coal left for suffering people. Sanitary conditions are bad and a sea of water 20 feet deep is standing in places. Public schools will be closed for at least a month. No one has entered the town since Tuesday.

TRIBUTE TO ALGER.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The president, vice president and senate in a body paid tribute to the late Senator Alger by attending his funeral at the Alger residence this afternoon. The body left at 4 o'clock for Detroit where the burial will occur Monday.

TRACED TO MILK.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—The epidemic of disease is traced to the source of milk found to contain scarlet fever germs. Drastic measures may be taken by the health authorities to condemn all milk coming from the north shore dairies.

ONLY CHURCH MEMBERS

Share in Distribution of Relief in Jamaica.—Losses Heavy.

Kingston, Jan. 26.—Reserves were called out last night to check a threatened uprising of blacks when the governor and relief committee refused to aid any except church members. It was learned today that business losses on which no insurance can be collected will exceed $10,000,000. Twenty-five leading merchants are bankrupt. Resources of the land will be taxed to weather the storm.

BROKE DEADLOCK IN UPPER BOARD

Alderman Palmer Elected President by Party Vote

Democrats Thanked Him for His Exhibition of Courage at Last Hour.

COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED

After casting his vote for first one and then another of his colleagues during the 24 hour session of the board of aldermen, in the hope that the three Democrats present would join him in electing one of them president, and impelled to face a crisis by the statement of the city solicitor that he would institute legal proceedings soon, Alderman Earl Palmer broke the deadlock last night by obeying the mandates of his party caucus and voting for himself. It was either Palmer or Hannan at the last hour, and as Alderman Hannan is ill, his election would have accomplished nothing toward the solution of those urgent problems, legislative and ministerial, which must be disposed of by the board of aldermen within four days.

How satisfactory his action was to everybody immediately concerned, was indicated by the action of Aldermen Smith and Baker, who shook him by the hand after the adjournment and said they were glad he had the courage to break the deadlock. "We are through with politics in the board," they said. "We wish the deadlock had been broken last night, but we appreciate your position."

President Palmer just as warmly replied that he would be governed by the best interests of the city rather than politics in his course.

Then Alderman Stewart, whose sense of humor well known to his friends, finds as ready subject in himself as another, shook hands with the president, and remarked in mock reproach: "That was a bit ironical, putting me on the cemetery committee."

On assuming the chair President Palmer said: "Gentlemen of the board:

"I realize that you are all surprised by the action just taken by me and it is perhaps unnecessary for me to state to some of you how absolutely distasteful the action was to me.

"No personal ambition could ever have induced me to take advantage, in any manner, of a political opponent when prostrated upon a bed of illness, but tonight, we are confronted by conditions where the welfare of the city is placed in jeopardy by a further continuance of this aldermanic deadlock.

"The city solicitor has just explained to us the urgency of the situation and the results which would follow if the condition had been further prolonged. As a citizen of Paducah, I was anxious to see this condition improved, and as an alderman of the city of Paducah, it was my duty to work an improvement in the condition if possible.

"An all wise providence opened the way, and while none can more deeply deplore than I, the fact that one of our fellow members is prostrated, I believed it to be my duty to avail myself of the opportunity thus offered to bring about a better condition.

"In this decision, I was guided by the advice of no one. I did my duty as I saw it and the consequences of my action rests upon my head alone."

The real cause of the breaking of the deadlock is attributed by some to Solicitor James Campbell, Jr. He spoke briefly after ten ballots were taken with no result.

"This deadlock is growing serious," he declared. "I do not want to be considered as 'butting in,' but I feel it my duty to interfere if these conditions continue. It will ultimately result in costly litigation, and I warn both factions alike. If this deadlock is not soon broken, if some compromise is not effected, I shall mandamus you to pass bills, accounts and other financial matters that can not stand a delay."

With this Solicitor Campbell sat down. Clerk Bailey took up his roll call pad and began to sing out the names on the eleventh ballot. There was a little ripple of surprise heard when Alderman Palmer called out clearly and distinctly "Palmer," but the applause seemed general.

Flattering to Paducah.

"Only a diagram will do justice to the trip we are making to visit Paducah this year," said F. Lawrence Walker, manager of Charles B. Hanford, who appears in Paducah Wednesday night as Marc Antony in Julius Caesar, as he sat down at the editor's desk in THE SUN office, and with pencil and paper drew an irregular triangle, marking dots for towns. The dot for Paducah was away off to one side with Memphis at one corner and St. Louis at the other.

"We are coming from away down here in Mississippi," continued Mr. Walker drawing a line to the dot named Memphis. "Now, we are booked in Kansas City the second night after Paducah, and we could save about 350 miles by going straight up the Mississippi to St. Louis and then to Kansas City and we could fill in time, but I have been promising Manager Roberts this visit and we are coming to Paducah."

"New, listen. To make Paducah in time we have to come north through Memphis on a train that thus runs from Florida, and we have just 30 minutes in which to make connection at Fulton. If we do not connect at Fulton we will be forced to charter a train."

"Oh, we will be here all right, but the special train is almost a certainty. I have arranged for that contingency, for the likelihood of a train running all the way from Florida to Fulton within 30 minutes of schedule time is too remote to bet on. We make Cairo after Paducah. That relieves the situation somewhat, but I have done more figuring on getting into Paducah and I am spending more money, I might add, than for any other town we make this year.

"Business is good, yes. How good depends on the section. In Texas all records were broken, because the short cotton crop east of the Mississippi has made the staple high, and a big crop in Texas has made the people rich. Mr. Hanford's reputation is established and he is almost sure of patronage, where he is known."

"He has played Brutus and Cassius, but I believe in Marc Antony he is even better than in the other roles. I tried to get up a combination of Hanford, Warde and James this year to play the territory we have covered, but the project was deferred too long. They would all have appeared in Julius Caesar."

An Honest Criticism.

Says the Fort Worth Record:

In fourteen days, to please his sovereign, the good Queen Bess, Master William Shakespeare wrote his great comedy, which is likewise one of his greatest dramatic achievements, and entitled it "The Merry Wives of Windsor." Louis James, in a number of days not recorded and to please every one who may see him, has taken this same merry comedy from the book-shelf, diversified it of parts that were somewhat strong and salacious for even these present-day audiences, and retained all that is comparatively inoffensive, by all of which the great bard's comedy has not suffered. Used as even we are to problem play heroines patterned from the scarlet woman and the more than suggestion of abandon that is presented night after night in song dance and costume of the "lighter" amusements, the original writing of "The Merry Wives of Windsor" would utterly scandalize a 1907 audience. But the James version is another matter—it is clear enough for the most finicky taste the shocking situations eliminated or modified, yet all the brilliant wit and sparkling converse of the great dramatist remains.

Another and still bolder thing has Mr. James done in taking from "Henry VI" the speech "Honor! What is honor?" and blending it into the fabric of the dialogue.

James has done many Shakespearean characters, for which his name will be long remembered, but among them nothing better than his Falstaff of this seldom seen "Merry Wives of Windsor." Rotund, good-humored, sack-drinking, licentious, conceited old blackguard that Falstaff is James makes of him a creature one feels in sympathy with despite all his monstrous faults. Probably it's because he is so good humored and so broad and genuine with his humor, so glibly by women and, on account of his vanity so ready to accept vapory excuses for his mishaps at their hands and so ready to try it over. And he so appreciates the joke even when he's the victim, and that's the very essence of being a good fellow. Shakespeare has no more amusing comedy role in all of his writings than this same roysterer. Sir John Falstaff, when it is well done, and Mr. James' Falstaff is ably given. But there's one place 'twould seem he cheapens his work and the character by a trick too old to be amusing and too new to be revered. He drinks the sack and wipes the thirsty lips of Bardolph with the napkin. Vaudevillians have done the turn too many times to tell. Hypercritical maybe, a mere fleck of dust on the face of the painting, perhaps, but still one doesn't want dust on the painting when is copies Shakespeare's dramas.

Nellie McHenry in her blue satin petticoat or brocade, beloped overskirt, fascinating, delightful Nellie McHenry, seems the ideal Mistress Quickly, and one could only regret that there was not a longer time taken by her in hearing the message from Mistress Ford and Mistress Page to Sir John.

Norman Hackett, for some seasons with James, is doing Mr. Ford, and a handsome and courtly gentleman of Windsor he makes, fitting every requirement of the jealous husband. Add Aphie James as the merry, mischievous little wife, Mrs. Ford, with her dainty graces, her bubbling mirth and rippling laughter, does a perfectly delightful bit of comedy work.

of the art that makes of even so little, said and done a matter worth mention for its very excellence.

Many are the productions announcing an all-star cast, but Mr. James, without so heralding his company, has in truth gathered about him people who are of notable ability, basing his selection of support upon the artistic foundation that even the smallest part is worth the best talent. It has been years since there has been gathered together such an exceptional company of Shakespearean players.

While the "play's the thing" and in this production Mr. James has not let the magnificence of setting, costuming and electric effects be so great as to predominate over the greater value of histrionic art, yet the production is one in which no expense has been spared. The scenery is beautiful, the settings historically correct, as is also the lavish costuming.

"Merry Wives of Windsor" will be given today matinee and tonight.

Real Hooligan Coming.

All who have enjoyed the funny caricature character of Happy Hooligan, the city tramp, in the great dailies' funny pages, will have an opportunity to see soon the real, original, stage production of Hooligan's Troubles. Hooligan's Troubles portray the city park nomad just as the reader would want to see him—always getting into innocent trouble and then jollying himself out. It is a clean, hilariously funny production and the original number one company—none other presents it here. Proof of this rests in the fact that the original Hooligan who created the part and jolly Grace Burgoyne, who created "Freckles," are with the company. There are incidentally twenty-one musical and vaudeville features on the program and the operatic director, Nat Solomon, directs the orchestra. This attraction will appear at The Kentucky Tuesday night.

BARGAINS IN HEARTS.

Dan Cupid is a merchant bold.
Who deals in human hearts.
He has them all, both young and old.
Some whole, and some in parts.
The damaged ones he keeps in stock—
Of course, I mean the males—
And all the thrifty maidens flock
To Cupid's bargain sale.

Dan Cupid doesn't advertise
His bargain sale or hearts,
But every maiden there who buys
Most cheerfully departs;
And if a heart is broken when
She gets it home, you see,
She straightway takes it back again,
And wants a guarantee.
But Cupid doesn't guarantee a heart,
For lots of them are damaged by his dart.

And that is why we all agree
That marriage is a lottery;
For Cupid doesn't guarantee a heart.

Dr. I. B. Howell.

The bride will wear a beautiful gown of imported white chiffon and lace, a creation of Madame App of Evansville, and the bridal veil.

The wedding color will be pink.
The maid of honor will wear white crepe de chine figured with pink roses, and a wreath of pink roses
and silver leaves in her hair. The dames of honor and bridesmaids will be gowned in pink point d'esprit over pink silk, with wreaths of pink flowers. All will carry pink carnations,
a pretty honoring of "McKinley Day."

The 29th and the beloved president's favorite flower and color.
After the ceremony the bridal party and relatives will be entertained at the home of the bride's grandmother Mrs. Joseph H. Fowler on Kentucky avenue. They will leave for the South that night and the bridal trip will include Cuba and Florida.

Among the out-of-town guests expected to be present for the wedding
are:
Mr. and Mrs. William Sanders of Columbia, Miss. Mrs. William Sinclair

Booten, of Denver, Col.; Mrs. Loula
Bringham Epperson, of Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. Gustave H. Warneken, of Clarksville; Mrs. Anne Berryman, of Clarksville; Miss Belle Lockett, of Henderson; Miss Evelyn Walker, of Dyersburg; Miss Anne Rhea of Nash-

Beautiful Heart Luncheon to Miss Davis.

A pretty compliment to a popular and attractive girl was Mrs. John W.
Scott's heart luncheon today to Miss Martha Stewart Davis, a bride of the coming week.

Hearts was played from 11 until 1
o'clock when the luncheon was served. The table was a charming symphony in pink, the wedding color.

The chandelier was effectively decorated with pink tulle and simlax, and suspended from it was a Cupid holding ten pink ribbons which extended to the place cards on the table.
These were hearts daintily decorated with cupid. The center piece was a graceful arrangement of pink carnations and simlax. The delightful nine-course menu was attractively served. The ices and cakes emphasized the heart motif and carried out the pink and green color scheme. The covers for ten included: Miss Martha Davis, Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, Miss
Mary Scott, Miss Kathleen Whitefield,
Miss Evelyn Walker, of Dyersburg;
Miss Anne Rhea, of Nashville; Mrs.
William Booten, of Denver, Mrs.
Henry Rudy, Mrs. Vernon Blythe,
Mrs. John Scott.

Mrs. Dallah's Card Party.

A pretty card party of the week
was given by Mrs. Lawrence Dallah,
of Fountain avenue. The house was
attractively decorated with carnations. There were eight tables and the places were indicated by pencils tied with ribbons and engraved in gift with the name of each guest.
The first prize was won by Mr. L. A.
Washington. The second prize went to Miss Elizabeth Sinnott in a cut with Mrs. Thomas Leech and Mrs.
Will Gilbert. The consolation prize was taken by Mrs. Kate Wilson. A pretty two-course luncheon followed
the game. The guests were: Mrs.
Leopold Friedma, Mrs. John Keller,
Mrs. Wynne Tally, Mrs. Thomas
Leech, Mrs. W. B. McPherson, Mrs.
Armour Gardner, Mrs. Clarence Sherrill, Mrs. L. A. Washington, Mrs.

Entre Nous Club.

Miss Retta Hatfield was hostess to the Entre Nous club and a few outside guests at her home on North
Seventh street on Friday afternoon.
The club prize was won by Miss Ethel Brooks. The visitor's prize went to Miss Kinney, of New York. A prettily appointed course luncheon followed the game. The guests were:
Mrs. William Booten, of Denver,
Col.; Mrs. Henry Rudy, Miss Kinney,
of New York; Miss Schraeder, of Indianapolis; Miss Wood, of Kansas;
Miss Ethel Brooks, Miss Lillie Mae
Winstead, Miss Blanche Hills, Miss
Nell Holland, Miss Frances Wallace,
Miss May Owen, Miss Mary Scott, Miss Frances Terrell, Miss Sarah Sanders, Miss Lillie Mae McGlathery,
Miss Clara Thompson, Miss Mattie

Reber-Englert Wedding

The marriage of Miss Maggie Reber
and Mr. Lonnie Englert will be solemnized on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the St. Francis de Sales
Catholic church by the Rev. Father
H. W. Jansen. The attendants will be Mr. Charles Reber, of Princeton and Elmer Englert, of Paducah. The bride will wear white liberty satin covered with point d'esprit. A reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Reber, 917 Clark street, will follow the ceremony.

Mrs. Blythe's Pretty Luncheon.

Complimentary to Miss Ruta Well
and Miss Martha Davis, two January brides, and Miss Anne Rhea, of Nashville, Tenn., her house guest Mrs.
Vernon Blythe gave a pretty luncheon on Monday at her home on North 7th street. The color motif was green and white which was charmingly
elaborated in the table decorations and in the nine course menu. The center piece was a pretty effect in Bride roses and the place cards were two hearts intertwined with the initials of the two brides wrought
in green.

At the table were: Miss Martha
Davis, Miss Ruth Well, Miss Anne
Rhea, of Nashville; Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, Miss May Scott, Miss Kathleen Whitefield, Mrs. Henry Rudy, Mrs. John Scott, Mrs. Allen Ashcraft, Mrs. Vernon Blythe.

Mrs. Dallah's Card Party.

A pretty card party of the week
was given by Mrs. Lawrence Dallah,
of Fountain avenue. The house was
attractively decorated with carnations. There were eight tables and

Mrs. Dallah's Card Party.

A very delightful meeting of the Magazine club was held on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Hal S. Corbett, of North Eighth street.

The response to roll call was made with a current event. Miss Minnie Ratcliffe represented the Cosmopolitan Magazine with a forcible article
on "Child Labor in New York." Mrs.
A. S. Dabney from the Century, reported very entertainingly. Mrs.
Armour Gardner told of the Life and Love Affairs of Abraham Lincoln.

Mrs. Henry Overby represented the Serap Book with a beautiful article,
"The Kingdom of Light." Mrs. Samuel T. Hubbard told very cleverly a story in negro dialect. "Sweet Alice, Ben Bolt" was sung by Mrs. Henry Overby. A delightful two-course luncheon was served after the repite.

The out-of-town visitors present
were: Mrs. S. F. English, of Louisville, and Mrs. Jacob Corbett, of Wiekliffe. Mrs. Corbett gave an interesting account of the work of the Woman's club of Wiekcliffe.

A rule was adopted by the club to fine all members who are late, a penny for each minute, and present the fund to the Charity club. Mrs. Mildred Davis was re-elected to membership of the club.

Cotillion Club.

The Cotillion club entertained on Wednesday evening at the Palmer House in compliment to visitors in the city. It was a delightful German and was led by Dr. and Mrs. Victor Voris, Mr. Louis Riecke, Jr., and Miss Schraeder of Indianapolis. There were present for the occasion: Dr.

Matinee Musical Club.

The Matinee Musical club held its regular semi-monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the Parish House of Grace Episcopal church.
The program was an attractive arrangement of the Italian Composers Verdi and Scarlatti. Mrs. George B.
Hart was the leader. Biographical sketches of these composers was given by Miss Frances Gould. Miss Mamie Dryfuss rendered a vocal solo from Scarlatti and a piano solo from Verdi.
Miss Brazelton and Mrs. Hart played a duet from Verdi. Mr. Edward Skelton gave a violin solo and Mr.
Richard Scott sang. Mrs. H. S. Wells
read a paper on "Jennie Lind."

At the business meeting of the club
several important matters were discussed. It was decided to have Mrs.
Maude Conway Blanchard, of Boston Massachusetts, here in April to give a Tennyson recital for the Matinee Musical and Woman's clubs. Mrs. Blanchard has appeared in recitals here before and

Our Yearly Bargain Muslin Underwear Sale Begins Monday

THIS great bargain feast is an economy event that every thrifty woman should take advantage of and buy a full twelve months supply. These Muslin Underwear Garments are splendidly made, tastefully trimmed and combine daintiness with dependability at marvelously low prices--especially marvelous when compared with the present high cost of the material and trimmings and the high prices now paid to muslin underwear operators.

We placed our orders for these muslin undergarments several months ago when the old low prices ruled on bleached cotton and when manufacturers were most anxious to keep their factories running. That is why we are able to make this bargain sale now and to offer such money saving opportunities.

At this time the materials and trimmings in most of these garments would cost you more than we are selling the finished garments for.

Daily Thought.

"Capacity for heaven depends on the creation of happiness here."

THE ONLY WAY.

We accept with the feeling of one,
who hears a corroboration of his own deduction, that the Democratic members of the board of aldermen, personally would have been glad to have voted for some Republican
"other than Mr. Palmer," or Mr.
Palmer himself for the presidency.
This was indicated by their offer to gamble for the presidency or to share six months terms with the Republicans, and the Republicans believed this also for they allowed Alderman Palmer to follow his own inclination for 24 hours, and vote
for a third candidate. But the Democrats were tied by a power higher than their own. The man, who had deadlocked the board, evidently could not break it. The Democrats by their own admission were in a position where they would like to let go, but couldn't in that emergency.
Alderman Palmer was coerced into
following the dictates of the caucus.
It would have been calvarious, indeed, to have voted for Alderman Hannan, whom illness detained from the meeting. But what object lesson in chivalry did he and his colleagues
have before them? At the first moment, with a trick, by which Alderman-elect Little was persuaded to resign and Alderman Smith substituted, they were brought face to face with the realization that no quarter would be shown the minority of the general council, and even though that minority comprises the old members of the board of aldermen, partisan politics was to rule
the course of legislation. Confronted with this condition the old members of the board of aldermen were foreced into presenting a united front to the opposition. But even while they had a majority of one in the board, Alderman Palmer for 24 hours generously voted for a third candidate,
affording the Democrats that opportunity to "vote for some Republican other than Alderman Palmer." How much consideration did the Democrats show their absent colleague
during that trying period? They offered to gamble away his chance of election and then suggested that the two parties share the presiding office six months apiece, and the Democratic term was not to be held by Alderman Hannan, but by anyone the Republicans should name. The Democrats did not care at that time,
who should be president. They did not stand for any principle or regard
their allegiance to any candidate.
They only had obstinate consideration for their own political faith.
The deadlock had been on so long
they were ashamed to vote for a Republican so they thought they would gamble for the office. It was then that pressure was brought to bear on Alderman Palmer. His colleagues had demanded that he vote
for himself. He was their choice,
they saw they would not receive fair

play from the new members, and so he swallowed the compunctions that had dominated his actions for 24 hours and voted—not for himself—
but for the caucus nominee.
He did perform a public service
when he broke the deadlock. There were the payroll and the claims to be allowed; there was the apportionment ordinance to be passed; there were the licenses to be considered. The Democrats, when they persuaded Alderman-elect Little to get out of the way for a stronger partisan, created the deadlock, but when they desired to break it, their courage failed. It was up to a man with better moral fibre than anyone
of the newcomers exhibited, to break
the deadlock and that man was Alderman Palmer. The concise speech
he made on assuming the chair indicated that the board of aldermen has a real presiding officer.

Manifestly the board of public works is straining at a gnat in regard to billboard obstructions. We trust the biblical parallel will not be carried out by the board swallowing
a camel. When the Utterback Advertising case came before the police court on a warrant sworn out at the instance of the board of public works, it was discovered that the bill boards complained of extend, in one instance two-fifths of an inch
and in another one-fifth of an inch.
Of course, it will be claimed that there is a principle involved in this matter of Kentucky theater advertising, but as long as they do not violate the law more than two-fifths of an inch, Judge Cross does right in not enforcing a penalty for a technicality without substance.

Remember the poor this kind of weather.

TWO-FIFTHS OF AN INCH

Bill Board Extends Over Sidewalk—
Obstruction?

While the Utterback Advertising Agency is technically guilty of a breach of ordinance, Police Judge Cross this morning dismissed the case, allowing bill boards to remain on Fourth street and Broadway and Second street and Broadway. The case was discussed by Prosecuting Attorney Tom Harrison and Attorney
W. A. Berry. An ordinance resurrected by the board of public works
prohibited obstructions of streets.
The only question was whether the bill board is an obstruction. The one on the Postal Telegraph company building extends over the pavement
two-fifths of an inch, while that on McPherson and Gilbert's drug stores
and the Paducah Banking company building extends out only one-fifth of an inch.

MORE TEACHERS AND PUPILS

At Washington School Building for Second Term.

Twenty-six teachers in the Washington building, just twice the number installed three years ago in September, will greet double the number of pupils in that building when school convenes Monday morning.

Monday two additional teachers
will be installed in the Washington building, one in the High school and the second in departmental work.
Prof. C. A. Norvell will enter the High school and Miss Ester Boyd
will go into the departmental work.
Miss Boyd is teacher of the fifth grade at the Longfellow school, and Miss Claire St. John will take her place. These will be the only changes made in teachers in the entire school system.

SOCIALISTS CRUSHED.

Under Great Victory of German Government Yesterday.

Berlin, Jan. 25.—The government's great victory in the election was enthusiastically celebrated last night.
Cheering, singing crowds paraded the city and in other ways made manifest their joy. The Liberal, Radical and Conservative parties, supporting Bue-low's colonial policy, have won at least 20 seats in the reichstag but more important for the government
than the success of its colonial plans
is the smashing defeat administered to the Socialists who will lose 17 or 18 seats.

GLASS PLANT FUND.

Will Soon Be Raised, as Only Few Hundred Dollars Are Outstanding.

Committeemen of the Commercial club see only some $600 outstanding between them and the realization of the end for which they have been working a fortnight—the raising of the $15,000 bonus to secure the location of the glass plant of Harry Finley in Paducah. It is expected that this sum will be made up in the course of a few days, probably by Monday night.

Mrs. Minnie Bryant.

Mrs. Minnie Bryant, 32 years old,
wife of J. M. Bryant, 1330 South Eighth street, died this morning. She leaves a husband and two children.
The funeral arrangements will be made later.

CHARITY CLUB IS IN NEED OF FUNDSCold Weather Increases Demands on OrganizationGenerous People of Paducah Called on to Give Clothing, Food and Money.

URGES IMMEDIATE RELIEF

Both yesterday and today the office of the Charity club was one of the busiest places in Paducah many people who have hitherto been able to get along without assistance from the club were among the applicants for both coal and provisions. Some families living in the outskirts of the city near the mills or railway yards have gathered fuel from the scrap heap along the tracks thus securing enough to keep their homes
warm during mild weather. The present cold snap and the deep snow, however, have put an end to this work
and nearly all of these people have been down to apply for help. More orders were issued yesterday and today than during all of last week.

If the rush continues the resources of the club will be taxed to the utmost and the ladies of the club have decided to make an appeal through the public press for contributions in cash or provisions. All gifts of cash
should be sent to Miss Elizabeth Sil-cott, treasurer of the club, to whom also all checks should be made payable.

Early this morning Henry Gockel,
the baker, called up the office of the Charity club by telephone and notified Secretary Toner that he would honor orders for bread while the bad weather continues. This is a splendid gift and many families will be supplied with the "staff of life" without the direct expenditure of any money of the club.

Last year the ladies of the club
made a canvass of the city and sold club memberships for $2 each, realizing from this source nearly $500.
This year it was thought best not to make a regular canvass but rather give charitably inclined persons
throughout the city an opportunity to make voluntary contributions.

It is expected the sum of money
voluntarily contributed will be quite as large and even exceed the amount raised last year. Any sort of a contribution whether in provisions or cash in any sum will be gratefully received and it is hoped the response will be a generous one.

SAYS IT WAS FIGHT.

Ex-Marshall J. B. Gregory, charged with assaulting Cashier E. Gregory at Dycusburg Thursday afternoon with a hatchet in attempt to rob the bank, denies the charge, and says he acted in self-defense, having no designs on the bank's funds. His victim is not able to make a statement. The ex-marshall says he gave a check at Dycusburg on a bank at Marion where he had funds. He was unaware that he had overdrawn his account until Cashier Gregory informed him Thursday that he had.
A spirited controversy resulted, and the ex-marshall claims Cashier Gregory called him a liar and a fight resulted. Alleging that the banker made for a pistol lying nearby, the ex-marshall grabbed a hatchet and defended himself.

QUARTERS TO NEW AND USEDBUSY CANDIDATES
AFTER POSITIONSRailroad and Prison Commis-sionershipCombinations Said to Exist Among Democratic Aspirants to Nice Paying State Jobs.

IF ASSEMBLY IS DEMOCRATIC

Surface indications show a decided activity underneath in Democratic politics in western Kentucky, and the good positions of railroad and prison commissioners are interesting
a number of aspirants, their friends,
their enemies, and those who are looking to the relative advantages of assuming either attitude.

Hon. Mac D. Ferguson, the present railroad commissioner from this district is a candidate for re-election
and with a big field against him, his friends anticipate his election, but the others are strong and combinations, said to exist, may be the determining factor in the fight. Announced candidates beside Mr. Ferguson are W. H. Southall, Jr., at present member of the legislature;
Judge Bunk Gardner, of Mayfield;
Hon. George Landrum, of Smithland, and Lawrence Finn, of Simpson
county.

It is reported that Gardner and Southall have entered into an offensive and defensive alliance, to try their respective strength, the best man to receive the other's support,
and appoint the other rate clerk, no
mean position in itself. Hon. Mac D.
Ferguson and Lawrence Finn are said to be in the same position leaving Mr. Landrum the only independent candidate.

Whether or not this is true, friends
of the different candidates are using whichever of the stories will accomplish the purposes they are trying to effect.

PRISON COMMISSION.

George V. Green, of Hopkinsville, prison commissioner, is not regular,
and it is probable that he will not be a candidate for re-election before the legislature. Hon. L. W. Arnett, of Covington, is candidate for his place. Others in this end of the state want the place and Will Norman, of Graves county, is said to be an aspirant. Eli H. Brown, of Bardstown, and Harvey McCutcheon, of Russellville, of the Third, congressional district, are the other members. On account of Arnett's location in the Sixth district, it is thought he is strong, as that district has no recognition at present.

Of course all this depends on the legislature being Democratic.

NAVAL BILL

Carries Appropriation of $95,000,- 000.

Washington, Jan. 25.—An appropriation of $95,000,000 is provided for in the naval appropriation bill was agreed upon today by the house committee of naval affairs. The bill provides for an additional battle-ship of the type agreed upon in the naval appropriation bill of last year. It also provides for two torpedo boat destroyers and appropriates
$2,000,000 for submarines. This $2,- 000,000 is in addition to the $1,000,- 000 for submarines provided in the bill of last year which is not yet expended. The provision is made for about 1,000 additional sailors and 900 additional marines.

NATURE AS A RECONSTRUCTOR.

"Nature repairs her ravages—repairs them with her sunshine and
with human labor."

Osteopathy is one of Nature's most used instruments in repairing her ravages. Take the Osteopathic treatment of headaches. It locates the primary cause and removes it, not in administering a common known sed-ative to on- and all alike, but by a simple mechanical manipulation.

So, in digestive disorders Osteopathy restores the nervous equilibrium to the stomach, bowels, liver,
pancreas, etc., and a unit of action
established the disorders are readily

CONTRACT STANDS

BUT IN MEANTIME GARBAGE IS COLLECTING IN CITY.

No Place to Dump Refuse Because Float Can Not Be Moved Under Trestle.

The city sanitary garbage dump is inactive, scavengers are idle, and the board of health is helpless to dispose of the city's garbage. Unless the water recedes more rapidly than
it rose, the city will be in a most unhealthy state. This is the status of affairs, and it is anything but satisfactory to members of the board of health.

"We have got to dispose of the garbage from schools," President C.
H. Brothers, of the board of health, declared. "Schools have to be cared for because they involve the health of hundreds of school children. One or two schools have sanitary sewer connections for lavatories, but others have not. The conditions are becoming serious."

The board of health last week
came to an understanding with Ghent & Elliott, the garbage dump contractors concerning the disposal of the garbage dumped at the foot of Clay street. It is a matter of record in the courts, and Ghent & Elliott declare they will remove what is left when the water recedes.

The reason the dump can not be operated now is that it can not be gotten under the Illinois Central trestle
to the channel. It will not be operated until this is possible.

"The contract with Ghent & Eliott will stand, because we will not agree to a relinquishment
continued. "They contracted
dispose of garbage and will ha-
do."

AMBITIOUS

IS PLAN COL. BUD DALE OF NEW RICHMOND HOUSE.

May Take Charge of Large Hotel in Texas in Addition to Paducah Hostelry.

Col. Bud Dale, proprietor of the New Richmond House, may leave within thirty days to take charge of a large hotel in Taylor, Texas. J. N. Raynor, Colonel Dale's brother, and a prominent business man of Denton, Texas, bought the leading hotel in that city as an investment and wants Colonel Dale to come there and take charge. The present manager is not expected to retain his lease and Colonel Dale will know within 30 days or less whether he will go. Colonel Dale has made all arrangements to leave Paducah but not to give up control of the New Richmond House here. He has made the famous old hostelry one of the most popular in Kentucky. His plan is the ambitious one of operating both hotels, dividing his time between the two cities. His family would live in Texas.

PEOPLE AND SOCIAL EVENTS

Play to Be Given by Local Talent.

The Grace Church Guild is arranging to give a clever little play on Friday evening at the parish house. A number of the young society people and dramatic talent will take part.

D. A. R. Chapter.

The Paducah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold the regular meeting for February on Friday afternoon with Mrs. L. S. DuBois of Fountain avenue. The chapter will open promptly at 3 o'clock. The members are requested to answer the roll call with quotations from George Washington. "The Literary Features of the American Revolution, John Dickerson and Others" will be presented by Miss Helen Lowry.

Dance Thursday Evening.

The young men will give a dance on Thursday evening at the K. of P. hall.

Dr. D. T. Stuart will leave tonight for Soo Chow, China, to live. Dr. Stuart has lived in Paducah a number of years and has succeeded in his profession. He will enter a large hospital in Soo Chow.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Grassham and little girl will leave tomorrow for Deland, Fla., where Mrs. Grassham and child will spend several months.

Mrs. Sam English returned to her home in Louisville this morning after visiting Mrs. H. G. Reynolds.

Dr. Robert Rivers, of Smithland, spent the day in the city. The backwater at Smithland is getting dangerously near the town.

Mrs. Lewis in Mayfield.

The Mayfield Messenger of Friday in its notes of the play presented there by local talent for the benefit of the Christian church, says:

"The solo during the intermission by Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis, of Paducah, was a delightful feature of the evening's entertainment. Her voice is rich and beautiful and her song was immensely enjoyed by her hearers and received the hearty applause of every lover of good music present."

Mrs. J. C. Tully fell on her residence steps yesterday and sprained a wrist.

Miss Addie Byrd, of 1043 Trimble street, left this afternoon for Brownsville, Tenn., where she will take some special studies in the training school at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Gregory and son Master Willis Robins Gregory, of Chicago, will arrive tonight to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Richardson on South Third street. Mrs. Gregory was formerly Miss Kate Robins of Paducah.

Mrs. John B. Wickliffe, of Wickliffe, Ky., is visiting Mrs. Joseph A. Miller of South Sixth street.

Hon. John K. Hendrick is in Frankfort on business.

Mr. Roscoe Reed is in Cincinnati, and comes home tomorrow.

Mr. William R. Hendrick returned yesterday from a business trip to Smithland.

Mr. W. Armour Gardner was in Smithland yesterday on business.

Miss Florence Baker, of Metropolis, is visiting Mrs. Aaron Hurley, of South Tenth street.

Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis returned yesterday from Mayfield, where she has been visiting Mrs. Charles Legg.

Mr. Seth Curdin, of Fort Smith, Ark., is in the city.

Misses Helen and Elizabeth Dunn, of Smithland, have returned home. Mrs. Frank Barnard, of Smithland, has returned to her home after spending several days with friends in Paducah.

Miss Cornelia Johnson, of Jefferson street, will leave Monday for Macon, Ga., for a six months' visit.

Captain Frank Beatty, the well known tie man of Nashville, is in Paducah.

Attorney J. S. Ross has returned from Cincinnati, where he has been on legal business.

FEATURES OF SUNDAY SERVICES

Methodist.

THIRD STREET—The Rev. Peter Fields, pastor. Mrs. Carrie Lehman will speak in the morning. Address on revival work by the pastor in the evening.

BROADWAY—The Rev. W. T. Bolling, pastor. Morning subject, "The Mountain View."

TRIMBLE STREET—The Rev. G. W. Banks, pastor. Usual morning and evening services.

LITTLE'S CHAPEL—The Rev. W. J. Naylor, pastor. Services in the evening.

To Elect Bishops.

Says the Memphis Commercial-Appeal in regard to a question interesting the Methodist Episcopal church, South, everywhere:

"There is considerable talk among the leading Methodists of this community concerning a called session of the general conference to elect new bishops. The college of bishops will meet in March, instead of May, as is the custom. Bishops Granbery and Fitzgerald are superannuated, and have not taken work for five years; Bishop Duncan is thought to be nearing the end; Bishop Galloway is in feeble condition. Bishop Key and Bishop Morrison are quite old. Bishop Wilson, the senior bishop, was never a strong man physically. Bishops Smith and Tigert have recently died. This leaves the actual work to be done by Bishops Hendrix, Candler, Hoss, Ward and Atkins, and Bishop Hendrix is a sufferer from heart trouble. In late years the enterprises of the church are said to have grown so large and active that they need the constant attention of the bishops."

Mrs. George Duckett.

Mrs. George Duckett, wife of the well known Illinois Central machinist, for years a foreman in the Paducah shops, died yesterday in Memphis, and she had been failing in health for more than a year. Besides a husband she leaves one infant daughter.

—Mr. W. H. Labb, of Indianapolis, will be here tomorrow to confer with General Manager Blecker, of the street car line, about putting up a "White City" attraction at the park this summer.

IN THE COURTS

Circuit Court.

This morning at adjournment of court the case of James Herring against Mrs. Mary Allison was on trial. He sues for $300, a commission on a farm, which he had contracted to sell, but which Mrs. Allison sold. Herring claims he had a deal on, and Mrs. Allison's action prevented his closing it.

Suits Filed.

Lillie Ray, executrix of Fannie Hentz, against H. C. and Rufus Hartley, for $177.50. The plaintiff alleges that the defendants undertook to cure the deceased, Fannie Hentz, of cancer, and were paid $100 in cash, for treatment, and the remainder for board during treatment. The petition alleges that at the time neither defendant was legally qualified to practice medicine, and sues to recover the money paid them.

R. E. Edwards against Ella Edwards, suit for divorce. They were married July 27, 1900, and separated December 21, 1900. Abandonment is alleged, and the custody of a five-year-old child is asked for.

John Daugherty was fined $10 and costs for being drunk and disorderly and choking another man at a local livery stable.

ANXIOUS PARENTS INQUIRE FOR THEIR YOUNGSTERS.

An Unique Advertising Scheme of Wallerstein Brothers Last Night.

Were you "tagged" last night?

Wallerstein Bros. put out one of the best advertising schemes ever used in Paducah last night. To advertise the final clearance sale of all winter stocks they issued over 10,000 large, green tags, corresponding to their window designs, and had them tied on the door of every residence in the city last night. They used 24 boys to do the distributing, and it was after 1 o'clock this morning before the last house was "tagged." "The scheme was very successful," said Mr. Melvin Wallerstein, who is responsible for the idea, "and we had lots of fun in the work, notwithstanding last night was the worst, in point of weather, of the winter. We had 24 boys under the direction of 12 clerks, and sent them to every part of the town. There were a great many uneasy parents calling up on our phone, however. It seems some of the boys failed to tell their parents what they were going to do, and you can imagine their feelings when at 12 o'clock their boys were not at home."

Mr. E. F. Rassmussen, the window dresser and trimmer for Wallerstein Bros., greatly aided in the success of the scheme.

WANT ADS.

There is no "unsalable" real estate in this city. Some that has been unsalable has been supposed to be unsalable.

In a store the advertising regulates everything else as surely as the moon regulates the tide—or, perhaps a little more surely!

If your "want ad." publicity department" is as well managed as the other features of the business, you can run one of the winning kind of boarding houses—and then you will have a business that is as profitable as it is necessary to the community.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Almost everybody knows that license should be paid in January; yet some people seem to forget it. This is intended as a friendly reminder FOR YOUR GOOD.

Ten per cent must be added to all license after February 1st. Naturally this is not a pleasant obligation to settle. It is also an unpleasant duty for the treasurer to collect it. Therefore endeavor to avoid it by your prompt attention.

Every business, occupation, agency and profession is liable for a license. Kindly call at the city treasurer's office at your earliest convenience that you may save this penalty, and greatly oblige.

Yours respectfully,
JOHN J. DORIAN,
City Treasurer.

Silks==Our Annual January Silk Sale==Silks

Sale Begins Monday 9 o'clock

Lasts Two Days

Begins Monday

Sale Begins Monday 9 o'clock

Lasts Two Days

YOU know what our Annual Silk Sale means, if you were here last year. It is a silk sale the like of which you have but one opportunity a year, and have only had such opportunities twice in your life in Paducah---our last year silk sale and this year silk sale. Perhaps you missed the former, if you did you were one of the few. Don't miss this one. When we say SILK SALE we mean a sale that is in every respect a SILK SALE---a bargain given---when silks are sold regardless of the cost, with no limit to your purchase or styles to select from---Silks of every description, all colors, solids and fancies, latest pattern stripes for petticoats, Crepe de Chine, Radium Silks---all colors and any number of other kinds to select from. The greater part of these silks were bought especially for this occasion, combined with an assortment from our original silk stock, they all go in to make one more silk "event" for the Paducah ladies, one that will be talked of far and wide and long be remembered. This sale will last for two days, or at least that is our intention---last year with the same intention---sale lasted four hours, then only remnants were left. This year we have a larger quantity, but likewise expect a larger crowd, so come early and get the choice.

REMNANTS ONE-THIRD OFF

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY

is pleasantly remembered. She is a niece of Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells and a cousin of Mrs. George B. Hart. The step being taken to organize a Choral Society of the musical talent of the city was actively endorsed. While it will be independent of the Matinee Musical, the club will furnish the music for Choral society's work. The meetings will be held semi-monthly, but the leader has not been selected yet. With a Choral Society in active work there will be no trouble in giving oratorios during the coming winter.

Dolphin Club.

The Dolphin club held an interesting meeting on Tuesday at the Carnegie library. The morning was devoted to a discussion of Spain in the time of the second Philip. "The Reign of Philip II" was comprehensively outlined by Mrs. Annie H. Morrow. The noted "Escorial" Philip's memorial, was described by Miss Ethel Morrow. The story of "The Invincible Armada" of Philip was graphically told by Mrs. Elbridge Palmer.

Tacky Party En Masque.

There was a most enjoyable tacky party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Gott on West Trimble street Wednesday evening. The guests were masked and a very jolly time was spent. Delightful refreshments were served.

Those present were: Misses Daisy Bryan, Myrtle Hoyer, Jessie Gott, Stella Ross, Ruth McCool, Emma Smotherman, Willie Humphrey, Pauline Hank, Hallie Ross, Clara Rhodes, Bessie Lou Watts, Ruth Gott, Blanche Peck. Mesdames Arthur Watts, M. C. Lynch, Smotherman, Peck, Pearl Dassing. Messrs M. C. Lynch, R. F. Johnston, Arch Householder, W. T. Straub, Rupert Robertson, Caas, Sanders Mack Brogan, Earl Smotherman, Walter Sanders, Arthur Watts, Will Porter.

Engineers' Ball.

The annual ball of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at the Hotel Craig on Tuesday evening was largely attended. It was a successful affair with several hundred guests present.

Informal Evening.

Miss Ruth Benson entertained a number of her friends very delightfully on Wednesday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. B. T. Culom, of 917 Trimble street.

Crescendo Club.

The Crescendo club held a pleasant meeting on Tuesday afternoon with Miss Virginia Newell at her studio on North 7th street. An attractive program was rendered by Miss Newell's pupils who compose the club.

Weddings.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Well and Mr. Edson Hart took place on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Weille on Jefferson street. It was a beautiful home wedding. The Rev. W. E. Cave, of the First Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony, and the only attendant was the bride's young niece, Miss Axline Reeves.

The house was beautifully decorated with the Southern Simlax, and the ceremony took place in the front parlor before an altar made of palms and ferns. The bride and groom came down an aisle formed of white ribbons, extending from the stairway through the hall. The bride wore a charming gown of white radium silk and lace and the bridal veil. Her only jewels were a pearl and diamond heart shaped pendant and a bracelet set with diamonds, the gift of the groom. She carried bride roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was prettily gowned in white muslin over green and carried white carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony. The dining room was a pretty arrangement of white and green. Assisting in receiving were: Mrs. Jacob Weil, Mrs. Robert Reeves, Mrs. Mary Meyer, Mrs. Thomas Leech, Mrs. Alonzo Meyer, Mrs. Louis Rieke, Mrs. Harris Rankin, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mrs. John Scott, Mrs. Vernon Blythe, Mrs. Marianna Mayes, of Mayfield; Miss Kinney, of New York; Miss Anne Rhea, of Nashville; Miss Faith Langstaff, Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, Kathleen Whitefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart left at 6 p. m. for Florida and other points South and will be for the winter at the home of Mrs. George O. Hart, on Jefferson street, on their return.

Miss Mary Lou Byrd and Mr. Fred McCandless were married on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Byrd, on South 5th street. Rev. W. T. Bolling, D. D. of the Broadway Methodist church officiating. There were no attendants. The bride wore a pretty traveling suit of grey. They left immediately after the ceremony to visit the bridegroom's mother at Berry's Ferry, Ky., and will reside in Golconda.

The marriage of Mr. Harry C. Hollins the popular insurance man, of this city and Miss Barbara Schwartz, of Normandy, Mo., took place at Normandy on January 16. The couple have just arrived in Paducah after an extended bridal trip and will be at 2107 Broadway until they begin housekeeping.

Mr. Lloyd Bloomfield of Paducah and Mrs. Mary Hayes, of Golconda, Ill., were married in Golconda on Monday. It was a quiet affair and a surprise to the groom's friends in Paducah. They are now at the Bloomfield home in Arcadia.

About People.

Miss Frances Wallace will leave about February 1, for Helena, Ark., where she will visit a school friend, Miss Sallie Shaw.

Miss Florence Schraeder, who has been the popular guest of Miss Ethel Brooks for the past two weeks, will return on Thursday to her home in Indianapolis, Ind.

Miss Marjorie Scott will leave the last of the week for Jacksonville, Fla., to visit Miss Lucy Bruen, of Webb City, Mo., who is spending the winter there. Miss Bruen visited Miss Scott in the autumn and made a delightful social impression in Paducah.

Miss Blanche Hills will leave February 8, for Michigan. She will visit in Lapeer and other cities and will go to Ann Arbor to attend the Junior Prom of the University of Michigan this month.

Miss Anita Wood, of Wichita, Kan., who is spending several days with Miss Ethel Brooks, of North 7th street, will leave Thursday for St. Paul, Minnesota to visit. Miss Brooks will probably accompany her and visit her aunt, Mrs. Edward Feldhauser, of St. Paul.

Miss Claribel Rieke and Miss Carrie Rieke will leave February 4, for Louisville, where they will spend a few days with their sister, Mrs. Charles Trueheart, of Ormesby ave., before going abroad. They will sail from New York on February 9 for Spain, and will visit Egypt, Greece and Italy before returning. Mrs. William Owen Bailey, of Louisville will accompany them.

Mrs. John Fitzhugh, of Jackson, Miss., who has been visiting her parents Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Bolling, of North 7th street, will return home next week. She will be accompanied by her sister, Miss Mary Bolling, who will be her guest for a month.

Miss Belle Lockett, of Henderson, will arrive today or Monday to attend the wedding of Miss Martha Davis and Mr. Edward Bringham. She will be the guest of Mrs. Mildred Fowler Davis during her stay.

Mrs. W. C. Schofield, who is assistant vocal teacher in the studio of Signor Marescalchi in Chicago, was one of the singers at the recital given on Thursday night at Marescalchi in commemoration of the 6th anniversary of the death of the composer Verdi. She rendered the opening prayer from the opera "Rienzi," "O Padre Santo." Mrs. Schofield's talent has many admirers in Paducah, her former home.

Miss Evelyn Walker, of Dyersburg Tenn., arrived at noon today to attend the wedding of Miss Martha Davis and Mr. Edward Bringham. She will be the guest of Mrs. John W. Scott, 825 Madison street, until Monday, and will visit then Mrs. J. F. Covington at the Cochran Apartments Ninth and Monroe streets. Miss Walker is very popular in Paducah where she has spent several winters.

Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis and Miss Letha Puryear who are visiting Mrs. Charles Legg, of Mayfield, were guests of honor at a pretty five-course dinner given by Mrs. Legg on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Herbert Hunt entertained Wednesday in their honor, also. Mrs. Lewis sang Thursday night in a concert and play in Mayfield for the Christian church, which was quite an elaborate occasion. Miss Puryear assisted in the play.

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

The Last Large Stone.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 26.—The members of the state capitol commission today witnessed the swinging into place of the last stone necessary to complete the cornice and pediment surmounting the entranceway of the new capitol on the south side. The stone weighed in excess of ten thousand pounds, and this portion of the structure is now ready for Charles H. Nicholas the New York sculptor, who has been engaged to do the carving of the pediment. The model for the work is already here, and the work of carving will begin within the next week.

The central figure of the pediment is to be about nine feet high, and to complete the carving will occupy half a dozen men for at least six months. To do the work it will be necessary

The difference between relief and cure

All Physicians Don't Cure. When a physic is needed, anything that will cleanse the bowels will relieve, but that does not necessarily mean that such treatment will cure. Nearly all purgative waters, candied pellets and sugar coated pills will give temporary relief, but usually at a great cost to the health of the patients.

Such preparations weaken the muscles of the stomach so much that it soon becomes necessary for the patient to take a physic before he can have a proper bowel movement.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

does not act upon the bowels like most laxatives and cathartics. It contains such wonderful tonic properties that it soon strengthens even the weakest stomach, so it can properly and voluntarily perform its functions.

It is pleasant to take and never causes griping or pains of any sort.

Free sample bottle will be sent upon receipt of postal card request to those who have never tried it.

All druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at 50c and $1.00 a bottle.

Deplorable Accident

Mayfield, Jan. 26.—Miss Maude Cavlett, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Joe Cavlett, who lives between Boydsville and Lynnville in this county, was accidentally shot by Duke Simpson, Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Miss Cavlett died at 8 o'clock following. Miss Cavlett was in the house folding up quilts and the young man was standing in the door loading a breach loading shotgun when it went off and the contents hit Miss Cavlett in the stomach. Mrs. Green Shelton, of Boydsville, and Crawford, of Lynn Grove, were called in but it was impossible to save her. The young lady was very highly regarded in the community and her death is deplored. Mr. Simpson is the sixteen-year-old son of Mr. Wm. Simpson, of the same community.

Removal Sale of A. Pollock's Jewelry Store

About February 15th we will take possession of our new store room---now occupied by the Great Pacific Tea and Coffee Co., 333 Broadway. In the meantime we have made startling reductions on our entire line of Watches, Diamonds and Jewelry. This for two reasons: First, we wish to move as little as possible of the present and, when we get into our new location, we mean to have a clean, new stock. If you need anything in our line give us a call, for we have made a cut of 50 per cent in many instances.

Brainache

Press your finger down hard on the back of your hand, lift it quickly, and see how long the white spot remains. If it does not disappear in two seconds, the cause of your head-ache (brain-ache) is proven—uric acid.

In this trouble uric acid does not act in the same way as in most other uric acid diseases. The uric acid grains are so fine that the blood holds them in suspension, and becomes thick with the impurity. Now, with every pulsation the heart forces the blood stream through the farthest and tiniest veins of the body. But if the blood is thick with uric acid it cannot pass through these tiny veins. The heart then pounds away with all its might trying to force the blood through, and the result is high blood pressure in the big arteries that lead to the brain, and the very sensitive brain-walls are overstrained. This uric acid condition also causes Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, etc.

It is dangerous to relieve brainache with sedatives, they only weaken the heart's action. The heart should NEVER be interfered with. You must clear the blood of uric acid so that it can flow freely without overworking the heart. LIFE PLANT has the power, given it by Nature, to dissolve and thoroughly clean out the excess of uric acid in the blood. Every day you take LIFE PLANT your brain-ache will grow less and less until it goes away altogether; your blood is made clear and strong, and your heart pumps away like a fine, powerful machine. Don't wait for the next attack. Begin taking LIFE PLANT NOW.

Read what Theodore Lanning, of Dennison, Ohio, says:

"Have been troubled with sick headache for years, and by indigestion and constipation. Have tried a dozen remedies, but all were failures. As a last resort was induced to try Life Plant. Am now using the fourth bottle. I have no more sick headache, and to those afflicted with stomach trouble I say try Life Plant and be convinced of what it will do."

If you are a sufferer from any ailment, write your symptoms fully to J. J. Mizer, M. D., President of the Life Plant Co., Canton, Ohio, and get his personal advice free. Our helpful book—GOOD HEALTH mailed free on request.

THE REFUGEES

Omegas glanced keenly at the two warriors who stood as sentinels at the door of the hut. They had turned away, absorbed in the horrible preparations which were going on. Then she rummaged deeply within the folds of her loose gown and pulled out a small pistol with two brass barrels and double triggers in the form of winged dragons. It was only a toy to look at, all carved and scrolled and graven with the choicest work of the Paris gunsmith. For its beauty the seigneur had bought it at his last visit to Quebec, and yet it might be useful, too, and it was loaded in both barrels.

"I meant to use it on myself," said she as she slipped it into the hand of De Catinot. "But now I am minded to show them that I can die as an Onondaga should die and that I am worthy to have the blood of their chiefs in my veins. Take it, for I swear that I will not use it myself unless it be to fire both bullets into that Bastard's heart."

A flush of joy shot over De Catinot as his fingers closed round the pistol.

Here was indeed a key to unlock the gates of peace. Adele had laid her cheek against his shoulder and laughed with pleasure.

"You will forgive me, dear?" he whispered.

"Forgive me! I bless you and love you with my whole heart and soul."

"They had sunk on their knees together when three warriors entered the hut and said a few abrupt words to their country woman. She rose with a smile."

"They are waiting for me," said she. "You shall see, White Lily, and you also, monsieur, how well I know what is due to my position. Farewell, and remember Omega!"

"Now, Amory," whispered Adele, closing her eyes and nestling still closer to him.

He raised the pistol, and then, with a quick sudden intake of the breath, he dropped it and knelt with glaring eyes, looking up at a tree which faced the open door of the hut.

It was a beech tree, exceedingly old and gnarled, with its bark hanging down in strips and its whole trunk spotted with moss and mold. Some ten feet above the ground the main trunk divided into two, and in the fork thus formed a hand had suddenly appeared, a large reddish hand, which shook frantically from side to side in passionate discussion. The next instant as the two captives still stared in amazement the hand disappeared behind the trunk again, and a face appeared in its place, which still shook from side to side as resolutely as its forerunner. It was Captain Ephraim Savage of Boston.

And even as they stared and wondered a sudden shrill whistle burst out from the depths of the forest, and in a moment every bush and thicket and patch of brushwood was sprouting fire and smoke, while the snarl of the musketry ran round the whole glade, and the storm of bullets whizzed and pelted among the yelling savages. The Iroquois sentinels had been drawn in by their bloodthirsty craving to see the prisoners die, and now the Canadians were upon them, and they were hemmed in by a ring of fire. First one way and then another they rushed, to be met again by the same blast of death, until, flung at last some gap in the attack, they streamed off like sheep through a broken fence and rushed madly away into the forest.

But there was one savage who had found work to do before he fled. The Fleming Bastard had preferred his vengeance to his safety. Rushing at Omega, he buried his tomahawk in her brain, and then, yelling his war cry, he waved the blood stained weapon above his head and rushed into the hut where the prisoners still knelt. De Catinot saw him coming, and a mad joy glistened in his eyes. He rose to meet him, and as he rushed in he fired both barrels of his pistol into the Bastard's face. An instant later a swarm of Canadians had rushed over the writhing body, the captives felt warm friendly hands which grasped their own, and, looking upon the smiling well known faces of Amos Green, Savage and Du Lhut, they knew that peace had come to them at last.

And so the refugees came to the end of the toils of their journey, for that winter was spent by them in peace at Ste. Marie, and in the spring, the Iroquois having carried the war to the upper St. Lawrence, the travelers were able to descend into the English provinces and so to make their way down the Hudson to New York, where a warm welcome awaited them from the family of Amos Green. The friendship between the two men was now so cemented together by common memories and common dangers that they soon became partners in fur trading, and the name of the Frenchman came at last to be as familiar in the mountains of Maine and on the slopes of the Alleghenies as it had once been in the salons and corridors of Versailles.

As to Captain Ephraim Savage, he returned safely to his beloved Boston, where he fulfilled his ambition by building himself a fair brick house upon the rising ground in the northern part of the city, whence he could look down both upon the shipping in the river and the bay.

The manor house of La Ste. Marie was soon restored to its former prosperity, but its seigneur was from the day that he had lost his wife and son a changed man. He grew leaner, fiercer, less human, forever heading parties which made their way into the Iroquois woods and which outrivaled the savages themselves in the terrible nature of their deeds. A day came at last when he sallied out upon one of these expeditions from which neither he nor any of his men ever returned.

THE END.

DAYS OF HENRY CLAY.

Father Represented France in Louisiana Purchase Deal.

Baltimore, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Louise M. Este died here today in the 104th year of her age. She was the widow of Judge David F. Este, leading lawyer of Cincinnati, who died years ago. Her father, Judge William Miller, of Louisiana, was the agent of France in the acquisition of the Louisiana Purchase. Her family was closely connected with Henry Clay and took part in the brilliant social life at Washington in his time. After the death of her husband she came to Baltimore and made her home with one of her daughters.

Second Murderer Hanged.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 25.—Lewis Johns, colored, was hanged here this morning for the murder of his common law wife, Amelia Jones. It is the second hanging here in two weeks. Jones went to his death after confessing his crime. At the time of his conviction he fainted but was strong hearted on the gallows.

The Commonwealth Pays In Full

The COMMONWEALTH is the only company issuing Industrial Policies that are payable PROMPTLY and IN FULL—no matter when death occurs. Do you want insurance in a company that cuts your policy in half if you die within one year? Read what Mrs. Tolar says about the COMMONWEALTH:

Mayfield, Ky., Jan. 19, 1907. Commonwealth Life Ins. Co. Louisville, Ky.

Gentlemen:

I received today through your Inspector, R. H. Powell, settlement in full of policy No. 21977 life of my husband, James M. Tolar for $100, which I carried on the Tolar who died Jan. 17, 1907. I desire to say that the provision of your policy, by which it is placed in FULL IMMEDIATE BENEFIT is a most excellent one, as if I had taken this policy out in any other company doing an industrial business in this State at the time this was taken out in your Company, Aug. 6th, 1906, I would have received only one half or $50.00, whereas your Company paid me in full $100.00.

Thanking you for your kindness and promptness in settling the claim and assuring you that whenever possible I will recommend the Commonwealth to all those desiring industrial insurance.

Very truly yours,
Signed, Jualline Tolar,
Beneficiary,

GOOD HOME MADE BLOOD MEDICINE

Makes the Kidneys Filter Out the Poison

Mix It Up Yourself: Cleans the Blood of All Impurities and Makes You Feel Better.

ACTS GENTLY AND IS HARMLESS

A leading journal in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood," prints in a recent issue the following: Fluid Extract of Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

A well known local druggist who is familiar with this prescription states that it is harmless, being composed of vegetable ingredients which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy.

It cleans the blood of all impurities and nourishes the blood. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It purifies and energizes into run-down, debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Kargon and Extract Dandelion works wonders. Tals combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter uric acid and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.

This prescription is better than the usual patent medicines, which are in the most part alcoholic concoctions. The ingredients cost but little. They may be procured from any good pharmacist and mixed at home. Every man and woman here should make some up and try it if they feel their system requires a good blood medicine and tonic.

The Kargon to clean the kidneys and vitalize them so they can clean the blood, Sarsaparilla to make new rich blood and Dandelion to tone the stomach, clean the liver and make it active and relieve constipation is the way the prescription acts and so mildly and gently that one does not consider they are taking a medicine.

GRAND JURY

WILL BE DISPENSED WITH IF THIS BILL IS PASSED.

Batch of Important Legislation in the Illinois General Assembly.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 26.—A sheaf of important bills was put into the legislative hoppers today, one measure abolishing the grand jury system, a second prohibiting the sale of narcotics to drug fiends, another extending to women the right to vote for nearly everything but state officers and judges, and a forth forbidding the manufacture and sale of cigarettes. In addition, a joint resolution was presented for a constitutional amendment with a view to making changes in the revenue system and eliminating from the taxing scheme features that are considered archaic.

The bill abolishing the grand jury system came from John P. McGoorty, and is expected to be the subject of much debate among the lawyers of the house when it comes up for consideration in the judiciary committee. The measure practically places the state's attorney in a position now occupied by the twenty-three men good and true who now constitute a grand jury panel.

It provides that all prosecutions for the infraction of any criminal statute shall be on information in writing filed in the name of the state's attorney.

"Oh, I'm so sorry I could not come to your 'at home' yesterday." "Dear me, weren't you there?" "Why, of course I was—how very silly of me—I quite forgot."—Punch.

With a rise of .7 in 24 hours and the stage at 45.1, it looks as if the end of the present rise is in sight. Business at the wharf settled down into "innocuous desuetude" this morning, the Kentucky being the sole departure and the Joe Fowler the only probable arrival.

Government Inspectors Green and St. John are in the city today, inspecting the steamer Kilt Carson and the tug H. M. Hall.

The Bettie Owen did not make even the Brookport trips today.

The Martha Hennen came in last night from the Tennessee river with a tow and will leave in a few days for Cincinnati with a tow of staves.

The Gate City has returned with a tow of lumber from the Cumberland river.

The Joe Fowler was due in today and probably will arrive tonight from Evansville.

Sunday night the Buttorff will arrive from Nashville and will wait over until Monday noon before leaving for Clarksville.

The Kentucky received freight at the wharf all day having returned last night from Brookport, and will leave at 6 o'clock this evening.

William Evitte, head mate on the Kentucky, says he has been on the Tennessee river for 41 years and never saw the water back as far up that stream as it is now, at Johnsonville.

The river is unusually free from drift considering the widespread reach of the backwater.

The short haul to the wharfbort from the high water may be inconvenient to rivermen from its dangerous possibilities, but to the dray horses it is paradise regained.

In the summer months the long haul pull up the wharf is fearful.

The Dick Fowler at the wharf has up steam to keep things from freezing. The wheel of the Henry Harley is coming slow.

Official Forecasts.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth will rise during the next 24 to 36 hours.

The Ohio at Evansville will fall slowly during the next 12 hours, then at an increasing rate for several days.

At Mt. Vernon will rise slowly during the next 12 hours, come to a stand at about 48.5, then fall. At Paducah and Cairo, will continue rising until Sunday afternoon or night, 45
